Operational Controls – Feedback and Input for Food Safety and Food Handler Practices

The PRAC Food Bank values the opinions and suggestions of all staff and volunteers. As such there are several methods by which a person can bring forward a suggestion for improvement of operations.

1. Direct conversation with the Food Bank manager
2. Text and email messages
3. Letter to the manager and/or board of directors
4. Participation at monthly team meetings

The organization has records of feedback and follow-up from employees and volunteers to improve procedures for food safety and food-handling/-handler policies.
